Mary Leakey 1980–DVIR

Famed anthropologist Dr. Mary D. Leakey, who this year announced her startling discovery of hominid footprints dating back 3.6 million years, will be at Mary Washington College in February as the eighth Distinguished Visitor in Residence.

Writing in the April 1979 issue of National Geographic Magazine, Dr. Leakey described the process that led to her discovery in Laetoli, a flat expanse in northern Tanzania in East Africa. The footprints, which, she says in the article, "in my opinion, could only have been left by an ancestor of man," were found in petrified volcanic ash beds.

In a unique time sequence, falling layers of volcanic ash followed by light rain showers preserved the footprints of what Dr. Leakey believes is an ancester of modern man.

The discovery attests, in Dr. Leakey's words, "to the existence of a direct ancestor of man half a million years before the earliest previous evidence."

After removing the surrounding shallow layers of earth, the Leakey field team found a 23-meter-long trail of the footprints. Dr. Leakey has been continuing the effort to uncover more such footprints to the south of this first trail.

The footprints tell the world, Dr. Leakey contends, that at least 3.6 million years ago, in Pliocene times, man's direct ancester "walked fully upright with a bipedal, freestriding gait," and that "the form of his foot was exactly the same as ours."

Dr. Leakey's visit, scheduled for February 5 and 6, 1980, will include informal classroom discussions with students, a press conference, lectures, and a major public speech set for Wednesday, Feb. 6, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of George Washington Hall. The address will be open to the public at no charge.

Dr. Leakey's visit is being arranged by the college's Distinguished Visitor in Residence Committee, chaired by Dr. Richard P. Palmieri. The program was established in 1970 by the college's Alumni Association to attract nationally known scholars, artists and political figures to Mary Washington College. The program is financed through donations to the annual fund. Previous distinguished visitors have been anthropologist Margaret Mead, social activist, Saul Alinsky, historian Arthur Schlesinger, novelist Chaim Potok, choreographer Agnes deMille; political journalist Frank Mankiewicz, and former secretary of state Dean Rusk.

Other members of the DVIR committee, who have been working year-round on arrangements for the visit, are Elizabeth A. Clark and Nikola Nikolic, MWC professors; Mary Beth Dowell, Hoyt Scharff, Mark Ingrao, Barbara Sabanosh and Leslie Wheeler, students, and Janet King, Anne Rowe and Mary Carson, alumnae.

Critter Brings Fame to MWC Biologist

By Larry Evans

WASHINGTON – Amidst the thousands of insects that have found their final resting place at the Smithsonian Institution, there is one little bug that is Dr. Michael L. Bass's claim to immortality.

It is a caddisfly, a critter approximately one centimeter long that Bass plucked from a tree branch in southwest Virginia, which has subsequently been identified as a new species.

In an upcoming article in a scientific journal, the species of caddisfly will be named for Bass, an associate professor of biology at Mary Washington College.

The story of Bass's leap into foreverness is one of luck, honesty among colleagues and the diligence of the Smithsonian's Dr. Oliver S. Flint Jr., who determined that the caddisfly Bass found is a newly identified species.

Bass, a 35-year-old biologist who usually works with fish rather than insects, found the caddisfly on a May evening in 1978 as he was collecting insect specimens along Big Cedar Creek in extreme southwest Virginia.

A native of Russell County, through which Big Cedar Creek flows, Bass had been on vacation and was doing some trout fishing when it occurred to him that the creek was the home of an unusually large number or organisms. And so he began gathering some of them as part of a project he is working on with three other scientists to list all of the aquatic insects that can be found in Virginia.

The male caddisfly that turned out to be a new species was one of dozens of other caddisflies he gathered and put into a jar. He noticed that the particular caddisfly, along with another sitting next to it that was apparently its mate, were smaller than other adult caddisflies he was collecting.

He didn't think much more about it, though, until one of the other scientists with whom he is conducting the survey of aquatic insects looked at the jar full of caddisflies and said he thought one of them was a new species.

That scientist was Charles R. Parker, a graduate student at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. Parker, along with Dr. Reese Voshell Jr. and Boris Kondratieff, both of whom are also at VPI, is part of the team surveying aquatic insects.

The caddisfly in question was sent along to the Smithsonian's Flint, considered an expert in such matters.

"On the basis of the one specimen I wouldn't go out on a limb and say it was a new species," said Flint one day recently. "And so I started scrounging around."

There are hundreds of species of caddisflies and quite a few of those are in the Smithsonian collection. Flint looked at those as well as some he obtained from Harvard and the University of Illinois. He also contacted Dr. David Etnier at the University of Tennessee and asked him to send him some caddisflies.

Dr. Michael Bass, MWC Biologist, says discovery of new bug species involved luck, honesty and diligence.

In the ones received from Etnier, Flint saw some that were identical to the one found by Bass but which had been misidentified. He determined that a new species had been discovered and that Bass was the scientist who had found it and so would, therefore, have the honor of having it named for him.

One of the differences between Bass's caddisfly and others is that it has very large eyes, whereas all but one other species found in Illinois have less prominent eyes. Flint admits that he hadn't even noticed that until one of the scientists at VPI insisted that it was something new and that Flint would see that it was if he simply looked at the head end of the insect.

Because most species of caddisfly can be distinguished from one another by examining the male genitalia, that section had been the object of Flint's eye as he peered at the bug through a microscope.

Still, it was the genitalia that indicated that it was a new species. According to Flint, if you see one of the new caddisflies in the wild, you can distinguish it by looking at the male genitalia and noticing that the ninth segment has a rounded anterior margin that is enlarged lateroventally and that it has a low dorsomesal crest.

The range of the insect isn't known. Etnier has subsequently found others around Oak Ridge, Tenn., which is about 150 miles from where Bass found his specimen.

Bass says he considers himself "very lucky" in having found a new species.

"I was in the right place at the right time," he said, adding that "some people beat up and down creeks all their lives and never come upon a new species."

He said he was also fortunate in that his colleagues at VPI noticed the caddisfly and sent it on to the Smithsonian. In addition, Flint, Voskell and Parker were preparing a journal article on caddisflies just at the time of his find.

"That pushed it to the forefront," he said.

According to Flint, there is a good possibility that Bass could find other new species of insects as he goes about collecting in the Rappahannock River basin as part of the survey.

"Nobody goes into the coastal areas," said Flint, who like most other scientists does his searching in such places as South American countries.

Another entomologist at the Smithsonian, Dr. Wayne Mathis, agreed that Bass could quite possible discover new species around Fredericksburg. It is estimated, said Mathis, that there are about one million identified species of animals and that there are at least a million more that haven't been classified.

Bass said he will be looking. "I've had my appetite whetted."

Dean's Task Force— 100 With Ideas

Helping students develop their own capabilities has become a top priority of MWC's newest dean of students, Suzanne E. Gordon, who has come to the college with an extensive background of professional experience in college student personnel work.

Ms. Gordon, who holds a B.S. from Youngstown State University, an M.A. in student personnel from Kent State University, a certificate from the Institute for Educational Management, Graduate School of Business Administration, Harvard University, and a doctorate from Florida State University, has participated in seminars and national meetings in the student personnel field.

"Student affairs is the area responsible for developing and coordinating all of the activites, programs and services that contribute to a student's total educational development," the new dean told an audience of parents recently. At Mary Washington, that involves four specific areas: residence halls, student activities and organizations, the Counseling Center and the Infirmary.

And, although the new dean wants to take time this first semester to ask questions and become more familiar with MWC before making any major policy decisions, she has created a task force of students to work with her on identifying the positive and negative aspects of student life at the college and to suggest ideas and methods of improvement.

The Task Force of 100 - a randomly selected group of students - met for dinner and small group discussion early in the fall. Freshmen and sophomores discussed such topics as how well their orientations prepared them for life at MWC, what they expect to give to MWC, what kind of contact they expect to have with various college-related groups, how well student services are advertised to the students, how more student participation in activities could be developed, and why they chose to come to MWC.

Juniors and seniors, she said, were questioned about what experiences had been most useful in preparing for life after college, what services they had used, whether rapport between students and administrators could be strengthened, how communication could be improved, how accessible the student government is, and whether MWC has lived up to their expectations.

"People were so into this...they had so much to say," Dean Gordon said following the meeting. A critical part of the task force's work, she pointed out, will be to compile reports on students' responses and to channel their ideas and comments to administrators of the college. "To maintain the task force's credibility," she said, "there has got to be some response to this information."

Further meetings to delve into specific areas of concern are a possibility for the future, she added.

In another area, the dean's office itself has had some organizational changes with the transferring of the counseling center to Dean Gordon's supervision, and the employment of an assistant dean of students for residential life.

George W. Edwards, a native of Georgia who specializes in residential life administration and programming, is the new assistant dean. He holds a bachelor's degree in history and a master's degree in counseling and student personnel, both from West Georgia College. Having served most recently as Director of Residential Programs at the University of Kansas in Lawrence, he has also held positions in student personnel administration at South Dakota University, Mars Hill College in North Carolina, and Northern Michigan University.

Dean Gordon's experience includes serving as Dean for Student Development at Southwestern University, Georgetown, Texas; Assistant Dean for Student Life, Waynesburg College, Waynesburg, Pa.; and Residence Hall Counselor and Advisor at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio.

Dean Gordon succeeded Juanita Clement, who, for reasons of health, has returned to full-time teaching in the Department of Health and Physical Education.

Dean Gordon was selected for the deanship from the more than 150 applicants for the position.

Enrollment Up— New Programs Popular

It was quite obvious to returning faculty and students that the population of Mary Washington College had increased -- and statistics on the 1979 fall enrollment backed up this observation.

At 2,471, the enrollment at MWC is the largest in the college's history and reflects increases in a variety of categories.

The male population of 479 (19 per cent of the student body), increased by 131 students as compared to 1978-79.

The most dramatic increase, however, came in the part-time student category, which jumped 61.9 per cent, from 289 students last year to 468 students this year. College officials say that new evening programs in historic preservation and business administration helped account for this rise.

Rises were also seen in the day student population, the female population, the transfer population, and the in-state and out-of-state populations. Last year's total enrollment was 2,292.

In other statistics recently reported to the college's Board of Visitors, it was seen that this year's freshman class is quite similar to the classes of previous years, with 50 per cent in the top quintile of their high school classes. There is a larger number of out-of-state students in the freshman class, but the increased size of the class kept the percentage of 79 per cent Virginians and 21 per cent non-Virginians the same as it has been for the past three years.

Applications from black students were up from 23 to 54 this year, with 35 of those offered admission. Nineteen black students accepted the offer to attend MWC.

Commented Dean of Admissions Conrad Warlick, "The committee on admissions and the professional staff of the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid paid particular attention to the quality of the applicant pool, and those students whose overall records of scholarship and achievement seemed to predict success at Mary Washington were offered admission to the college."

Set Apart— English Profs Publish Variety

By Joyce Frier

There is nothing unusual about MWC professors publishing books - many do it quite frequently; however, three members of the Department of English, Linguistics, and Speech have set themselves - and their department - apart from the rest by their total variety of works and the time frame in which they were published.

The three books, which range from an adventure novel to a critical study of the Jacobean period, were all published this semester. Raman K. Singh's novel, Journey to Mandala, is at one end of the literary scope, with William Kemp's critical edition of John Marston's The Wonder of Women or the Tragedy of Sophonisba occupying the other. Nathaniel Brown's Sexuality and Feminism in Shelley cannot be placed neatly between the other two, but while it is certainly a scholary study of Shelley and his era, it is aimed at a much broader audience than Kemp's book.

The Wonder of Women is designed for a purely specialist audience---scholars interested in Marston and the Jacobean period. Sophonisba is a relatively obscure play of Marston's; there are only five previous editions, including the first one. Kemp, chairman of the department, feels that his is the only accurate edition of the play ---"It is not necessary for anyone to ever edit the play again," he says. Editing a play, especially one as old as Marston's, is an involved process in which the editor carefully decides what the author meant to say, and then painstakingly proofreads his copy before it is sent to the publisher. (Kemp and his assistants spent an entire semester just proofreading the final manuscript).

Both Kemp and Brown's books are extensions of their dissertations. Brown had originally aimed his book at a specialist audience also, but his publishers felt that the aim should be broadened to include the general educated reader. Sexuality and Feminism in Shelley is considered not only a literary study, but also, as the dust jacket reads, "an analysis of sexual attitudes and practices in the Romantic period, and a contribution to the history and theory of feminism." Fifteen years ago, Brown says, the suggestion of the sexual element in Shelley's verse would have shocked many Shelley scholars, but perhaps today the world is ready for this fairly new view of Shelley and his poetry.

Singh's novel, Journey to Mandala, is of special interest to the surrounding community because it actually begins and ends in Fredericksburg. It is the romance and mystery set in Singh's native India, however, which add spice to the novel. Although the novel centers around an MWC professor and a married student, Singh claims that it is purely fictitious.

In the novel, Singh combines American and Indian ingredients in a story about "finding one's self and living up to what we are."

Unlike the other two books, Singh's novel was not published by an established company, but by Singh himself and several associates.

Mary Washington College, unlike many other schools, does not require its faculty to publish a certain amount of material each year. Kemp says that in this way the college does a real service to scholarship and that the very lack of pressure results in higher quality publications. In addition to occasional financial assistance, the college supports faculty publications in other more subtle ways, and, Kemp concluded, the quality of work turned out is a definite plus for the college.

Donald E. Glover, another professor of English at MWC, also has written a book that has been accepted for publication at a later date. The book concentrates on the fictional works of C.S. Lewis, who is best known for his fantasy and religious writing. Much of Glover's research was done in Oxford, England, where he lived for a year while on study leave. In Oxford he met many people who had known Lewis before his death in 1963, and with the cooperation of Father Walter Hooper, Lewis' personal secretary and literary executor, Glover used the large collection of Lewis material in the Bodleian Library at Oxford University.

The book uses Lewis' attitudes toward literature and literary criticism as a framework to help readers understand how Lewis became an effective writer of fiction. Glover says the book will be valuable to those who want to know more about Lewis' development as a writer, and why his fiction continues to appeal to a steadily growing audience.

The Mary Washington College bookstore has copies of Journey to Mandala available, and will order copies of the other books for anyone who is interested. Write the Bookstore Manager for information.

Music Department Notes Change

"The old order changeth," yielding place to what the music department hopes is a new and more enlivening curriculum. While the department feels that its present program is adequate, this new program, developed last year, is not only more efficient but, more importantly, will help make music come alive for the undergraduate student. As planned, the new program will go into effect in the fall of 1980, with that year's entering freshman following requirements of the new curriculum.

What makes the new curriculum different is the sequential arrangement of courses. Explained James Baker, music department chairman, a first semester freshman will take a tri-unit course composed of Introduction to Theory, Skill Development, and Medieval History. Although a different professor will teach each segment, the courses will be integrated in such a way that the professors will be working as a team and will, therefore, be able to put a fresh perspective on different aspects of each segment. The courses which follow through to the junior year continue to be tri-segmented and progress chronologically to the last segment on contemporary music. The final required course is a theory-history seminar in which students will incorporate all they have learned in the previous courses.

The new curriculum deals with the same basic material in "a more cohesive framework." As in the past, a wide variety of literature and specialized courses will continue to be offered to both music majors and non-majors.

Parents at MWC— New Council Forms

Eight-hundred and seventy-seven people representing 355 families of Mary Washington students arrived on campus Sept. 21-22 for a weekend of activities and visiting. The 1979 Family Weekend also became the first public gathering of a newly formed advisory body, the Mary Washington College Parents' Council.

A morning session of the Parents Council in George Washington Hall was well attended by parents, who heard a variety of reports on this new group's function.

Dr. & Mrs. Edwin L. Hobson serve as co-chairparents of the council. Dr. Hobson explained the group's advisory role to other parents. The council, he said, would advise the president of the college, act as a channel of communication to promote better understanding of MWC, stimulate a greater interest and participation in MWC activities by parents, assist the staff and student organizations in designing programs for parents of MWC students, help with student recruitment, contribute their knowledge of careers and placement opportunities, and encourage parental financial support for projects of direct benefit to students and the college which require non-state funds.

To accomplish these goals, Hobson announced the formation of five committees in the areas of Family Weekend, Career/Placement Opportunities. Parent Relations, Student Recruitment and Parents' Fund.

The council also announced three projects for which it would attempt to raise funds during the next year. Funds would be used for typewriters for student use, for conversion of the old swimming pool area of Ann Carter Lee Hall to a recreation area and for an outdoor volleyball/basketball area.

SPORTS

by Terry Bonner
MWC Sports Information Director

The 1979 fall sports schedule has been one of satisfaction and optimism at Mary Washington College. Although successes in the win-loss column are limited, if far from absent, optimism is the byword.

Every game represents an opportunity for more young athletes to gain valuable playing experience. And young athletes are at the head of the roster at MWC. Eleven freshmen and seven sophomores are among 23 soccer players. The women's golf team is made up of three freshmen. Eight of the tennis team's first 10 women are freshmen. In each of these sports, the Blue Tide is now competitive, and as more young athletes join the teams revisions in the record books are inevitable.

More specifically, Mary Washington enjoys more than limited success in some sports. The volleyball team captured the 1979 Virginia Division III State Championship as repeat winners. The team, which lost three of its six starters to graduation, has bettered last year's pre-tournament record of 12-8 with 20-2 mark, 5-0 in the conference, 10-0 in the division. Its success has come with a starting lineup of three seniors and three freshmen.

Coach Connie Gallahan is full of praise for her team. "Every time we have gotten down, we have come back and won—and we have been down a lot." She explains the winning tradition, so recently and firmly established, with words every coaeh wishes to use. "We win because we give just a little extra, because we work harder, not because we are so good."

The state tournament was a challenge for the Tide. "This year we were cautious and felt pressure to repeat. Now we have something to protect," the third year coach says. "But the girls decided they were going to win and I see no reason why they shouldn't!"

In other fall sports, the wins may not have rolled in as steadily, but the optimistic attitude persists. Although three of their seven events were rained (or snowed) out, the women's golf team brought home a first and second in the first flight in team play. In open, individual competition, freshman Denise Furgason of Fredericksburg finished 14th in a field of 27 at the James Madison Invitational with a round of 91. Susan Steffe handed in a 104 total good enough for third place in the second flight in the Virginia Intercollegiate Open Championships.

The tennis team, with two matches remaining, was aiming for a break-even season. Its 5-6 record reflects wins over Catholic University, Randolph Macon, Lynchburg, St. Mary's, and Goucher, the latter three by dominating scores. Losses have been to Mary Baldwin, University of Richmond, William and Mary, Georgetown, George Mason, and Sweet Briar, the final three by 5-4 scores.

The field hockey team did not quite match last season's 11-3 record, but it, too, was optimistic heading into its November tournament. The team's 4-7 record is indicative of the number of starters lost from last year's team - 10 of 11 - and the number of players lost to injury. But those players are returning to full-strength action just in time for state tourney play.

The lone returnee to the stickers is Jenny Utz, who, as a Springfield freshmen, led the team last year in scoring. At four goals, her output this season is down, but she maintains her leads. The hockey team is also youthful, with 12 of the 18 players being freshmen or sophomores.

The women's riding team is in the midst of its fall competition. The eight-member team garnered 12 ribbons, as each member earned a place in a 13-team meeting at Hollins College.

The men's soccer team has suffered through a 3-10 season with three games remaining. Five of its games have been decided by a single goal, four more by two goals. Coach Roy Gordon said proudly, "We have played well, and we have outshot many teams."

In the team's overtime win over the University of Richmond, his optimism flourished. Martin Hauser and A. J. Hall, both Northern Virginia freshmen, scored the goals. Andy Muncey, a freshman in goal, made nine saves. The basis for a strong team is clear.

The men's and women's cross country teams have passed the year without a dual meet win but not without some strong performances. Freshman Ray Owens set a course record at Christopher Newport College, bringing home a first place for the Blue Tide.

For the women, Kath Otto and Debra Dorer, again two freshmen, usually finished at the top of the roster of MWC runners.

Alumni Success Story: From the 'Stars' to the DA's Office

By Mary Carson

Twenty-one years after graduation from Mary Washington College, Susan M. Canter again attended graduation ceremonies. This time, she walked up the aisle to receive her J.D. degree with honors from Whittier College School of Law. She received American Jurisprudence Awards for being first in her class in Agency, Real Property, Trusts, Remedies, Corporations and Trial Advocacy.

Alumni success stories are plentiful, but this one was written with many years of hard work and endurance. Sue Canter received her B.A. degree from Mary Washington College in 1956. She majored in dramatic arts and speech.

The early years in MWC drama

Immediately following graduation, she departed for New York City to seek employment in the theater.

In New York she was hired to do script analysis and worked with several production companies. She worked as assistant to author John Osborne and director Tony Richardson in the presentation of the Broadway productions of "Look Back in Anger" and "Epitaph for George Dillon." She also served as an assistant to producer Harry Saltzman. During this time period, she continued attending classes at N.Y.U., working toward her master's degree in English.

During the early 60's, Sue moved to California and was hired as production assistant for several NBC and ABC - TV shows. In 1962, she was hired as executive assistant by Red Skelton's Van Bernard Productions. For eight years, she handled all of Red Skelton's personal matters, and ran the Skelton office. Sue Canter had come a long way in those eight years - from the backstage area of MWC to an active career in Hollywood. Sue's new career placed her in a position to deal with the top personalities of stardom, as well as with a boss with a very demanding schedule.

In 1970, Sue was appointed casting manager for the West Coast with NBC - TV. Her new responsibilities included the casting of variety shows and commercials and handling child labor and immigration clearances. During this time period, she continued her academic quest by attending night classes at the Whittier College School of Law.

At this point in her life, Sue realized that her dream career was not one of the hassle of Hollywood stars but to be a lawyer. In 1976, she began to work as an unpaid law clerk for the district attorney's office of Los Angeles County. She was assigned to Department 95 - Mental Health. She appeared in court in more than 600 court hearings during that year.

After passing the bar exam in 1977, Sue Canter was officially hired as a deputy district attorney assigned to the Glendale area office.

The next chapter in Sue's life was Proposition 13. Immediately after being hired, Proposition 13 was placed on the ballot via a taxpayer's revolt because of high property taxes in California. Sue was informed by the D.A.'s office that she was number 15 on a list of 138 deputies who were scheduled to be fired if Proposition 13 passed. Even with this knowledge, Sue's strong convictions caused her to vote for the bill because taxes had risen by approximately 150 per cent. After working for free for almost two years to get the job, Sue really didn't want to lose it. The bottom line is that the bill passed and Sue Canter is still a deputy district attorney. No one was fired and at least 60 more attorneys have since been hired.

As a deputy district attorney, Sue was working in Municipal Court. She has worked more than 20 jury trials with charges ranging from forgery and auto theft to shoplifting and drunk driving. She has covered the whole gamut of felonies from armed robberies and burglaries to drug sale charges. Last March, Ms. Carter was transferred to prosecute juvenile cases, and in May she was sent to the mental health department to prosecute the criminally insane.

Sue Canter spends 10 hours a day in her office and in court. She spends her entire weekends working on cases and reading new law. She attends line-ups, visits prisons, and goes out on patrol with sheriffs. She has seen marijuana, heroin, cocaine, P.C.P. and every kind of pill imaginable. She also teaches law in the evenings.

I had the pleasure of meeting Sue and her husband Earl Riley while on a visit to California. They met while Sue was a student of Earl's in law school. Earl is a judge of the Superior Court for Los Angeles. Their wedding bands are engraved with the Star of David entwined with shamrocks. With Sue's determination and Earl's luck of the Irish, there is no doubt in my mind that Sue Canter's career will continue to be a success.

Nominations Due Soon

Each year at Homecoming, one alumnus is singled out for the distinctive honor of being the MWC Distinguished Alumnus. The award is based on an outstanding contribution made in one or more of the following areas: his/her profession or career, civic activities, creative endeavors in the arts and/or sciences, humanitarian causes and service to Mary Washington College.

The next award will be presented in April, 1980, and nominations must be received by December 1, 1979. Remember, however, that the candidates should not know of the plan to be nominated!

Book Idea More Than Child's Play

Nancy Hewetson Cooke '64 teamed up with another kindergarten teacher, Joyce C. Stalnaker to publish a book entitled, It's My Book: How a Child Learns by Making His Own Book. Nancy and Joyce were faced with the policy of no workbooks and no dittos for their kindergarten students. From this dilemma, they were able to derive a much more meaningful and creative way to involve the child in learning.

It's My Book gives directions and outlines for nine books, covering topics of color, shapes, self, senses, tasting, smelling, touching, health and pets. The teachers have the children draw, color and cut them and discuss the subjects, as they are studied. Nancy says that the children love being involved in the bookmaking process from start to finish.

The book was written and illustrated by Nancy and Joyce, but the cover was drawn by a kindergarten student. The book was printed by the father of another student.

News of Chapters

Fredericksburg – The Fredericksburg Chapter Alumni Award was presented to Dana Perry by president Bambi Creigton Willis '73. This award is presented annually to the senior from the Fredericksburg area who has the highest grade point average. Each year, a silver engraved Revere bowl is presented by the chapter.

The MWC Home Chapter is again sponsoring its birthday cake project. Letters were sent to parents informing them that local alumni would bake a cake for their son or daughter for a $5 donation. Last year, the chapter raised $2,000 for the Regional Scholarship Program.

Orders can be made by sending a check in the amount of $5 to the Fredericksburg MWC Chapter, P.O. Box 1315, Fredericksburg, Va. Please send the name, address, telephone and birthdate of the student who is to receive the cake.

Charlotte, N.C. – The MWC Charlotte Chapter deserves the "motherhood of year" award. Last year, six of its members delivered:

Martha-Ann Maddox Wardlow '68, a daughter, Jane Maddox

Lawson Stillman Greenwood '68; a son, Michael Carson;

Patsy Grubbs Farmer '67, a daughter, Sarah Kathryn;

B.J. Bowden Miller '68, a daughter, Susan Catlin;

Sidney Robins Lockaby '71, a daughter, Hayden Whitney;

Shelley Gunderson Brown '69, a son, Adam Randall.

Congratulations to you all!

Your Chance to Help

Do you want to support the Regional Scholarship Program by actively participating in the actual selection of the scholars? Have you wondered why you were never asked?

In the past, membership to the committee came about from a search of alumni files, looking for graduates who had expressed an interest in serving the college. This has been a good method for identifying alumni who would be really interested in working for the Regional Scholarship Program, but other methods need to be utilized. Also, past committee chairmen had polled their memberships to determine who wished to continue on the committees or if anyone knew of others who might be interested.

Now, to help resolve the problem of how to find interested alumni, the Regional Scholarship Program wants to establish a file on those alumni who write in to say they would like to serve on one of the thirteen scholarship selection committees. So please, if you are one of those interested people, submit your name on the form below to the Regional Scholarship Program.

You can expect to receive word from them soon.

Yes, I might like to serve on one of the Thirteen Alumni Selection Committees for the Regional Scholarship Program; please contact me.

Mary Washington College

1978-79 Annual Fund Report

Arabelle L. Arrington

As President of the Mary Washington College Foundation and as a member of the college's Board of Visitors, I find it most heartening to observe the healthy growth in private gift support to Mary Washington College, especially the increased attention being given to the college's financial needs by alumni, parents, students, faculty, industry and other friends. The quality of education and student life found at Mary Washington is strongly dependent upon the voluntary contributions of this dedicated group of supporters. As Mary Washington seeks simultaneously to increase gifts for current program needs and to add substantially to its endowment resources, the performance of the Mary Washington College Annual Fund during the past year is a source of great encouragement.

As an alumnus of the college, I am impressed with the emphasis which has been placed in recent years on the stepped-up giving of five year reunion classes. The annual increase of the average alumni gift can be attributable primarily to this source of support. As the college enters a new era of the 1980's with accompanying inflationary costs and limited budgets, it is essential that our Annual Fund goals be met. One of the major obstacles faced by many educational institutions these days is to overcome old concepts involving a large number of alumni who are not properly prepared to give at the level of their financial capabilities. It is my hope that you have properly conditioned your thinking in the direction of raising your sights to new giving horizons aimed at the fulfillment of personal objectives.

The commitment of the administration to get alumni more closely involved and the great support received from all alumni, including the younger members, and students, have been important factors in our successful efforts to stimulate personal loyalties to Mary Washington. It is noteworthy that the recent establishment of a MWC Parents Council has added another dimension to the college's large body of supporters.

On behalf of the Mary Washington College Foundation, I wish to express the gratitude to all those who have served so loyally as members of the various committees concerned with the development of the college. These men and women, together with several thousand more whose gifts are gratefully acknowledged, played a major role in assisting Mary Washington in its work of advancing human knowledge for the benefit of the nation and mankind.

Sincerely,

Arabelle L. Arrington

Miriam Whitley Knight

Dear Alumni and Friends of Mary Washington College:

I take pleasure in writing this letter after a stimulating year of communicating with you through a variety of channels. It has offered an exciting challenge and I am pleased to have this opportunity to touch upon a few highlights of the 1978-79 campaign and to share with you just a few of the results of your very generous response to the MWC Alumni Fund Drive.

You may recall President Woodard "kicked off" the college's campaign last fall with a message asking for your full support and at the same time "wishing that he could talk to you personally." Seasons greetings were extended through a reprint of a painting from our own Belmont, the home of Gari Melchers' Memorial Gallery, and our spring appeal expressed our hope of achieving entree for the first time into philanthropy's Magical $100,000 Giving Circle. The graphic displays in the alumni magazine "MWC TODAY" played a significant role by encouraging us to regain lost momentum through the application of Newton's Law of Motion and by suggesting that we renew the old neighborly tradition of "pitching in for an early topping-off goal fulfillment ceremony."

Your response to these reminders and to several telethons made possible an all time annual giving record of $61,515 by the Alumni Association. With an additional 700 more alumni contributing this year than last, an increase of $20,000 over last year's contributions was realized. The average alumni gift also improved from $20.81 to $23.25 and there was a proportionate increase in participation from 17% to 23%. Special recognition should be given to the marked gain in the number and size of matching company gifts and from chapter support.

As you can see, this has been a very exciting and rewarding year for me as your alumni chairman. I wish to express my appreciation to the large number of volunteers and staff personnel who helped to make this record breaking year's achievements possible. I also thank the many loyal alumni and friends of the college who supported these efforts in unprecedented numbers.

I am sure that you share with me the disappointment of our having fallen short on our campaign goal of $135,000. However, I am very optimistic in the outlook for next year. The progress shown reflects your personal concern for maintaining and improving the financial good health of the college.

Thank you for helping me to help Mary Washington College.

Sincerely,

Miriam Whitley Knight

| Company Matching Gifts | | 5,085 |
| Alumni Source | $4,935 | |
| Other | 150 | |
| Gifts in Memoriam | | 275 |
| TOTAL | | $20,724 |
| GRAND TOTAL | | $82,239 |

FUND HIGHLIGHTS

ALUMNI GIVING

The 23.3% alumni participation in the 1978-79 Annual Fund and the $61,515 given by alumni were all-time highs. Thirty-nine percent of the alumni dollar came from 142 (1.2% of 11,612) alumni who gave at least $100.

GIVING CLUBS

Goal achievement is dependent upon increased participation at these four levels of giving. New levels of giving were established as reflected by the expansion of alumni membership in the following giving clubs.

|---|---|---|
| Challenge ($50-99) | 110 | 152 |
| Century ($100-249) | 80 | 114 |
| Pacesetter ($250-499) | 13 | 22 |
| Leadership ($500 and above) | 5 | 6 |

REUNION GIVING

Led by 1944's record 35th Reunion gift of $2,946 and 1939's 40th Anniversary gift of $2,161, reunion classes gave a total of $15,683 to the college in 1978-79, which was $6,420 or 70% more than the 5 year reunion classes contributed in 1977-78.

GOLDEN CLUB

A grateful college wishes to recognize these honored graduates who for over one half a century have faithfully supported their alma mater. Their collective gift of approximately $4,000 reaffirms this longterm dedication and loyalty.

MATCHING GIFTS

Corporate matching gifts in 1978-79 totaled $5,085, up 68% over 1977-78. Eighty-five individual gifts were matched by 52 companies.

FACULTY AND STAFF

Faculty and staff giving set a record new high of $3,280. This total elipsed by 15% the old five year high of $2,853 contributed for 1977-78. Our thanks to the faculty and staff for their financial support which has enriched the College over the past five year period by a sum in excess of $11,000.

The MWC Foundation's fiscal year ended on June 30, 1979. The IRS requires that all charitable gifts received after that date be recorded in the fiscal year received.

The Development Office would be pleased to hear from you if you have any question regarding your donation.

TELEFUNDS

A WELL DONE to:

Our Regional Scholars, representatives from special activities and other undergraduates who manned the telephones over a three week period during our annual campus telefund

Those many alumni from the Fredericksburg, Peninsula and Richmond Chapters whose loyal support helped to assure the success of their respective chapter's annual telefunds.

RESULTS - 1,494 pledges for $20,672.

UNDERGRADUATES

The College's most important product, a contributor of personal services whose dollar value to the college cannot be evaluated, has been reported last to emphasize our appreciation for their magnanimous gift of $2,392.

This period has shown almost a three fold increase in annual fund giving by Five Year Reunion Classes. The statistics covering the period from 1975–79 indicate that numerous Five Year Reunion Classes established new records* this year for their respective anniversaries. Past and current giving records offer a challenge for future Reunion Classes to surpass.

Memo to: Class Agents
From: Debbie Stanley
V.P. for Class Agents

Agents are needed for the following classes:
1914
1917
1920
1925
1928
1930
1932
1933
1954

Please contact the Alumni office if you can help us.

I want to thank and congratulate all the Class Agents for their hard work and quality of news. We apologize if your news has been edited but space is at a premium and the cost of the magazine is continuing to increase.

If you sent in news and it is not in this edition please check the next issue.

Thank you for your patience:

Remember to keep in touch and share your problems and successess with us!

Homecoming last April was very unique, much like a festival. Alumni luncheon served on Ball Circle with tables and tents. The visitors and students were a colorful picture in many kinds of dress. From the '15 Class in attendance were Elsie Wood Rice; Edna Gibbs Hunter, Margaret Sayre Ransone and Ruth Carter Vellines. We were glad to see Ann Murray and others we know. My friend, Louise Ward, and I enjoyed the bus trip through campus with Dr. Alvey as guide. The trip to Belmont was enjoyable with music and paintings by Gari Melchers.

My daughter, Virginia Johnson, and I attended the spring luncheon of the Richmond Chapter at Salisbury Country Club. There we saw Anne Latane Ware Bedinger, '13. She was hoping to come to Homecoming. Talked to Elizabeth Chenery Ely '15, recently. She is now living with her daughter in Richmond. I inquired at Westminster Canterbury about Mary Frances Harrell '15. Found that she is a patient in the Health Care Center. Could not speak with her because she was on a short field trip.

Nannie Page Burrus '15 moved to the Virginia Baptist Home, Culpeper, in February 1979. I am sure she will appreciate a card from you. The hostess at her table is Sara Bruce, '16 who is an alumnus of MWC. Nannie Page sends greetings to classmates of 1915.

Elsie Wood Rice writes often. I occasionally hear from Edna Gibbs Hunter and Margaret Sayre Ransone. Margaret continues her teaching of foreigners. At present she is teaching a 32-year-old man to read and write.

I will be spending several weeks with my daugher in Roanoke during August. While there I shall phone Jean Graves Delaney and Junia Graves, who live at Friendship Manor. My last letter in March of this year from Virginia Saunders was cheerful.

Elsie had a recent letter from Sarah Gouldman McAllister '15. She was suffering from a sprained ankle. I talked to Mannie Torbert Kelly's '15 daughter, Ann, who told me her father, Alonzo Kelly, passed away in April 1979. Mannie is in Bristol Nursing Home in Tennessee near a dentist son. Have not been able to get Elizabeth Ninde Bryan on the phone.

18

Louise M. Clarke
3020 Kenbury Road
Richmond, VA 23235

It was very sad to hear about the tragic death of our classmate Fannie Mae Morgan Wright. We had such a good time together at our fiftieth and sixtieth class reunion at Mary Washington College.

Mary Ellen Burke Donald is not well. She has sold her home in Richmond and is living with her daughter at 8102 Tarkington Drive, Richmond, Va. She would love hearing from you. I have spent a week at Virginia Beach, and got too much sun for an eighty year old.

Write me the news please.

23

Mary B. Butler
507 Jones Street
Suffolk, VA 23434

Mary Carol Bland Cabell is spending two weeks in Florida. Her granddaughter is a junior this year at MWC. Elizabeth Spencer is involved in working at Virginia Beach Community Chapel filling in where ever there is a need. Helen Hart Prasse still lives in Fredericksburg and her life is crowded with many activities. She is a hostess at Mary Washington House three days each week, and works with the Senior Citizens Association. She said that she would like to see more of the '23's this coming April at Homecoming. Willie Bivens Snipes writes that she was privileged to tour Europe with the Richmond Symphony. She is a member of Ikebana International and a master flower show judge. A year ago she married her childhood sweetheart and is now Mrs. Bruce Hinson.

I want to thank those of you who sent in news—hope to hear from all the rest of you in 3 months. I have had a very quiet year substituting in the public schools and the I took two weeks off in March and visited friends in California. Let's keep '23 "alive" by keeping the news rolling.

29

Helen V. Hall
Box C-61
Locust Hill, VA 23092

I received a nice note from Peggy Branch Britton in which she thanked me for sending her a picture of the "Golden Clubbers." She regretted being unable to attend our Homecoming but hopes to be able to attend in '80.

Bernard and I have received our plane tickets for Ireland. We are taking a three week tour of southern Ireland, beginning September 17th. On our return, I am entering an orthopedic hospital in Arlington for surgery on my arthritic hip. The doctor has promised me that I will be able to walk straight and have no more pain.

Let's hear from some of you girls and all about your activities.

36

Ethel N. Wetmore (A–M)
107 Manteo Avenue
Hampton, VA 23661

Adelle M. Goodwin (N–Z)
Route 2, Box 355
Orange, VA 22960

Good news! Vernie Blankenship Knight has consented to be our 45th reunion chairman in April 1981. Vernie and Frances Liebenow Armstrong did such a good job with our 40th Reunion. Please let Adelle or me have some news in the meantime.

Vernie and her husband have a cottage at the mouth of the Rappahannock River, and spend about a third of their time there when the weather is warm. They attended Bus's 50th reunion at UVA, and were in Fredericksburg for a few hours during Homecoming. Bill Wheeler McCallum, Frances Leibenow Armstrong and Adelle Mansfield Goodwin were also there.

We offer our sympathy to Susie Dickinson Hudson on the death of her mother in July. Mrs. Dickinson's nine grandsons were pall bearers, and her four granddaughters were at the funeral, together with her children. Susie's father was a Baptist minister for many years. Susie's husband, George, is now retired. They had a wonderful trip to Hawaii in April.

Dorothy McGuire Bunch's daughter, Susie, is working toward her master's degree, and Dorothy is remodelling her cottage at Sandbridge.

Page Whitehead Hladky and Emil were in Cambridge, England, June 1-27, visiting their son, Stephen. In July, Page was busy freezing and pickling the good things from their garden. In June, Louise Jennings Creamer travelled up the Oregon coast with a friend who has a home in Waldport. In November, Louise took my daughter, Pam, and me to see some of the coast near San Francisco.

Bill Wheeler McCallum and Clara Boyd Wheeler '31 went on a month's trip to California. Earlier in the summer they enjoyed a trip to New Hampshire. Bill has now retired from teaching. In 1977, our class presented a beautiful original painting by Barclay Sheaks as a gift to the college. Some of us were there and enjoyed seeing Barclay and Edna Sheaks at that time. Some members of the class have Barclay's original paintings in their homes. Ethel Wetmore recently bought his four Wild Flowers Series prints.

Adelle Mansfirld Goodwin attended the weekend Women's Conference at Massanetta Springs, and she and Ethel had a good time seeing each other.

Ethel Nelson Wetmore's son, Jonathan, graduated from Stanford University with a master's degree in Civil Engineering. Please send new to us.

Ethel and Adelle

Lou Davis Smith '64 lives in Beltsville, Md., but she and her husband have a cottage on Lake Anna near our dairy farm.

We have a third grandchild, Adam Goodwin Hull. Our grand-daughter, Stacey, is attending Chatham Hall, a girls' preperatory school. Our daughter Judy's husband, Capt. Ray Caddell had been assigned to Langley A.F.B. It is wonderful to have them living in Virginia after so many years abroad.

The first of June I was able to get back to Virginia for visits with family and friends. After seeing my family in Narrows, I headed for Fredericksburg and there had a nice visit with Mary Carson, our Alumni Director.

Peg Smith Doley, Frank Nash Young and I had an afternoon of reminiscing and later went for seafood at Colonial Beach. Frank lives in Rockport, Md. During the summer months Frank spends her time at Fairview Beach "puttering" around the cottage, in the lawn, and on the beach.

Frank and I went to Hampton to meet Frances C. Smith Kapfer and to have lunch. Jacqueling Smith Robertson joined us. She retired from teaching in June and is looking forward to just being at home and with her children and grandchildren who live near-by. Guess you might call this a "mini" reunion or better still a meeting of friends who 'gabbed" about college days and current happenings in our lives.

Frances Curtis Kapfer will soon be moving into her new home in Williamsburg. She has been busy this summer finding furniture, visiting family and friends in Northern Virginia.

Peg Smith Doley and husband John went on a cruise in May and early June. Their trip began in Miami, then through the Islands and the Panama Canal, with stops in Colombia, Mexico and California, up through the inside passage of Alaska and back to Vancouver. They rented a car and spent another week in the Canadian Rockies before flying home. Peg then drove to Disney World and Sea World accompanied by her 7-year-old granddaughter. After having a great time they picked up Peg's mother in Jacksonville and then went home to Fredericksburg.

Elizabeth Clark (Clarkie) was in Virginia for a couple of weeks due to illness in her family. Bea Childs French '34 has a new address in Connecticut. Should anyone want it, contact me in Bradenton. The Frenches live in Connecticut during the summer and in Stuart, Florida during the winter. Lucy Lee Pierson Welsh has returned to Fredericksburg to live. Lucy has eight grandchildren.

Betty Abbey Cline '37 and Lucy get together occasionally as she too, lives in Fredericksburg. Lucy and Helen Wallace Garnett '37 cousins, lunched together in June. Alice Dew Hallburg is back in Fredericksburg. Glad you're safely home, Alice, after your recent experience in Iran.

Alumni records show and increase in our donations for 1979! This is great!!! Keep up the good work and please send news to one of your class agents. Our next deadline is November 15th so that will give you time enough to share your summer activities with us.

Have just returned from USSR where 41 of us spent 24 days. It was an interesting experience with a different culture. We went as far north as Helsinki, as far east as Samarkand and far south as Sochi on the Black Sea. Spent considerable time in the Caucasus. Halfway through the trip, I discovered two MWC alumnae, namely Georgine Kirkendall McKernan '50 and her daughter Mary-Laing McKernan '77 who were also part of our tour group.

Saw Mary T. Kettenbeck Gademan last summer on our way to Vermont.

Would like to hear more news but so far not much comes in. Y'all write!

From Virginia Gunn Blanton

Remember Class Reunion in 1980–our 35th!

Christine Brauer Krausse has moved from Huntsville, AL., back to her hometown of Richmond with Spott who has retired. Grace Bailey Lindner's son, Max, was married in May in the Naval Academy Chapel.

Elinor McClellan Cox wrote a very interesting letter about her busy life in Lafayette, Ind., where she owns a jewelry store, specializing in diamonds. She and son John are graduate gemologists and husband Gene is a buyer of rough (uncut) diamonds. Elinor is an Elder at her Presbyterian Church and is involved in the Business and Professional Women's Club. She says she has no time for the "empty nest syndrome."

Marjie Storms Reddoch writes that she and Ruskin are still in Tarpon Springs, Fl., Ruskin plans to retire from teaching and coaching at Tarpon Springs High School this June. "Jerse" will continue her art school and studio where she has 38 pupils ranging from second grade through high school level.

Lille Macheras Babalas lives in Virginia Beach with attorney husband Peter who serves in the state legislature.

Gloria Post Goodsell who hails from Kingston, N. Y., took her daughter-in-law to New York City for her first visit last Christmas. Gloria and Roger live in Fort Smith, AK., now after many years in Tyler, Texas.

Mary Doswell Simpson's daughter, Nancy, is being married in August in Danville, Va., where Mary and Jack reside. Jack is an optometrist and civic leader and Mary keeps extremely busy with community projects.

Skip Potts Taylor continues her busy life in Kennett Square, Pa., with church work, golf and bridge and with her two grandchildren. Wally is an officer in the bank in Kennett Square.

Fran Watts Barker and Chris Brauer Krausse and I had lunch together this summer and caught up on news. Fran's daughter, Ann Paul, will be married in December in Parksley, Va. Ann Paul teaches in Virginia Beach; she is a graduate of Virginia Wesleyan College.

Helen Hawkins Olsen's husband has retired from teaching driver's education in Fairfax, but Helen continues her career in teaching the homebound.

I enjoy my volunteer work with the Cerebral Palsy Auxiliary Board and substituting at the Cerebral Palsy Center and I am really looking forward to our reunion next spring at MWC.

Plan now to attend Homecomings--let's have a record turnout! And send news.

June D. McCormick

St. Louis, MO 63131

Memories came flashing back during my flight eastward as I turned the pages of our Battlefield. Gazing at the fresh, familiar faces of our classmates, I wondered if I'd recognize them today or if anyone would know me. After 30 years, over half our lifetimes, this was my first reunion.

I need not have worried, for as I emerged from Alumni House after registering on Friday afternoon, the very first faces I saw were those of long-lost friends, our own class president Barbara "Slip" Haislip Lynch and Jean Murphy Baptist. They called my name, and I was home.

The Alumni Association and Homecoming Committee had such a list of varied activities planned it was impossible to include them all.

On Saturday morning we met early at Ball for our reunion picture. Tall girls to the back being the rule, guess who was in the back row, dead center? With 32 present for the class picture, I'm sure "Murph" and I are the tallest, if not exactly the Phi Beta Kappas, of our class. Following the photo session, the 49er's took over the left parlor of Ball for a class meeting and reunion, each in turn recapping the events since last we met, spanning from five to 30 years, and we tried to catch up on news of those absent from our midst. Eventually the business turned to the selection of a new class agent, Anne "Miami" McCaskill Libis having served above and beyond for the first 25 years and Irvin "Kitten" Whitlow Westbrook for the past five. How my name even was raised I'll never know, but suddenly I heard that I was stuck. . . .elected! Being a distance of nearly 1,000 miles from campus. I'll certainly need all the help the Alumni Association and you can give. Meanwhile, on behalf of all 49er's, I proffer our heartfelt thanks to those extraordinary class agents, "Miami" 'n "Kitten!"

Those attending our reunion dinner were: Lavinia Ash Stuart, Nell Avery Stone, Charlotte Baylis Koffenberger, Dottie Booker Pinkham, Jo Cleary Curley, Lucille Clift Kimman, Andi Dulany Devening, Christine Dunnavant Ridgwill, Mary Elwang Sharpley, Betty Fischer Gore, Betsie Gilmer Coyner, Barbara Haislip Lynch, Betty Bond Heller Synon, Ann Jackson Atkinson, Gene Jones Pierson, Charlotte Kalil Harvey, Helen "Pete" Kirkwood Mitchell, Dottie Matheny Blake, Anne "Miami" McCaskill Libis, Jackie McConnell Scarborough, Frances McGlothlin Borkey, Jean Murphy Baptist, Ann Patty McClintock, Frances Scandlyn Henley, Elaine Schuhler Synhorst, Marion Selfe Kelley, Elva Fate Hasher, Margaret Thompson Pridgen, Barbara Rose Trimm, Lucretia Vance Gilmer, Margaret Walton Mason, Barbara Watson Barden, Irvin Whitlow Westbrook, Jane Yeatman Spangler and yours truly. If you're counting, that's 35 classmates, together with a few husbands, children and other family members. This was a very respectable percentage of 49ers, but we wish more of you could have been with us. Special works of appreciation are owed to Mary and "Kitten" for all their efforts in our behalf.

At dinner's end, several departed for their respective home, others had further plans and those of us who were quartered at Ramada adjourned to Betty Bond Heller Synon's and Charlotte Baylis Koffenberger's room for a combination surprise birthday party for "Chot," mini-reunion and gabfest. I only wish you all might have seen the appropriate cake Betty B. had secreted under her bed. Her artistic baker had depicted a portion of campus, with three rather buxom gals in the foreground and the legend "Look at the little ol' ladies NOW--1979! Happy 30th Reunion." It was great to culminate the preceding events with such a fun session. As we prepared to return to our rooms, we were called to the balcony by the faint sounds of singing. And there below, wouldn't ya' know, were "Slip" 'n "Murph" serenading us with Tell Me Why. Oh, I tell you, t'was moving as we all joined in. It was during this gala gathering, and largly from our reunion booklet, Andi Dulany Devening's labor of love, that I gleaned some newsy notes to pass on to you herein.

Jean Abendschein Vass had planned to join us, until the death of her father-in-law. Happier news from Jean was that her daughter Marla was graduated from MWC in May '79 and is engaged to be married. Jean and Walter, together with their daughter Tama, her husband, Marla and her fiance enjoyed a summer vacation on the Outer Banks of N. C. Jo Cleary Curley and John, a Divisional Patent Attorney with P. P. G. Industries, have four children. Jo was an Analytical Chemist with First National Food, Inc. in the '50's and later took art classes in oils and pastels.

Lavinia Ash Stuart and computer specialist Don have three children. Lavinia is part-time area manager for World Book Encyclopedias, is active in church, Women's Club, and was president and member of the Board of MWC Alumni Association. Charlotte Baylis Koffenberger and Arthur, and attorney, graduate of Dickinson, have four children. "Chot" is chairing the Wilmington Scholarship Committee of AAUW, is on the Board of Memorial Hospital and is treasurer of Special Projects for the Delaware Association of Lawyer's Wives.

Betty Bond Heller Synon and Jim (VPI '45), who owns B. B. C. (that's Bedford Broadcasting Corporation, not the British one) have three children. Betty B. continues to use her talents, was musical director of Radio Station WBLT, accompanist and business manager of the Bedford School of Dance, is director of an elementary school chorus, musical director of the local theatre group, plays for the Lion's Club Variety shows, accompanied a vocalist in a state-wide Bicentennial tour, and also is a member of AAUW, Lioness Club and a Handbell Choir.

Jane Yearman Spangler and Bob live in Wyomissing, Pa., where Bob is Nat'l Sales Manager for Polymar Corporation. They have three children, Janet, Nancy, and Robert. Jane taught first grade until '53, is a professional teachers aide in remedial reading, has been on the Episcopal Church Woman's Board for eight years, is a Republican Committee Woman for the Borough, and is active in the Needleworld Guild.

Peggy Walton Mason's husband Jerry is sales representative for Owens-Corning Fiberglass in Bethesda, Md. Their three children are Pam (MWC '74), Craig, and Jack. Peggy teaches part-time at St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School in D. C., is a licensed realtor, on the Altar Guide at St. John's in Chevy Chase, a member of the Suburban Hospital Assoc. in Bethesda and the Mortarboard Alumni Assoc. of Washington.

Barbara Watson Barden and Bob live in Lancaster. Pa., the heart of the Amish community. Bob received his B.S., his M.S., and his Ph.D., and currently is chief planner for human resources, York County Planning Commission. They have four children. Barbara took three years of graduate study at Indiana U. and Colorado U., was modern dance instructor at the YWCA and free-lance choreographer in Lancester, recently became Director of Dance at Franklin and Marshall College, continues being active in AAUW and League of Women Voters, leads various philosophical and social issue discussion groups, and still looks as if she can out-dance any gifted girls under her tutorage!

Elva Tate Hasher and husband live in Mechanicsville, while he is supervisor for the Dept. of Highways and Transportation at Sandston. Elva is a substitute teacher in Lee-Davis High School in Hanover County. Our visit was all too brief, but we became hysterical in remembering our antics as roomies during summer school in '48.

Speaking of roommates, Dorothy Repko Hoffman and I have kept in touch over these years and had our own mini-reunion in San Francisco a few years back. Ray took his Bus. Ad. degree and is Cost Analyst for Callo Salome in SFO. Dot added to her B.S. in Dietetics from MWC a B.S. in Education (Connecticut State Teachers '52), took a fifth year dietetics internship at the Medical College of Va. in Richmond, contunued her studies to qualify for her master's in both Education and M.S., but hasn't applied for either to date. Dot serves doubly as dietician and teacher, grade four, in the Woodside Elementary School District. She received the "Teacher of the Year" award five years ago. We've lost touch with Ellen "Boston" Pitman, whose last address was in Hawaii, and I personally was disappointed that our other suite-mate, Kathryn Ann Carter, did not make our reunion from Warrenton. Let us hear, Kathy. Mary Elwang Sharpley and her husband live in Fredericksburg, where Miles is a biochemist, president of Sharpley Labs and Lt. Col. (ret.) U. S. A. F. Mary is a vestryman at Trinity Episcopal Church, a volunteer at Mary Washington Hospital and did an excellent job of coordinating our reunion dinner.

Also residing in Fredericksburg are Lucille Clift Kimman and John, a colonel in the U. S. Army. Lucille is procurement agent for the Defense Fuel Supply Center and is continuing Purchasing and Materials Management classes at G. W. U. in D. C. Lucille was hostess to several '49ers for luncheon on Saturday, while we were attending the barbecue.

Betty Fischer Gore and Herschel reside in Fairfax, where he is a dermatologist with the U. S. Public Health Service. They have two daughters and two sons. Betty taught in the Charlottesville Public School system for four years in the '50's, is active in volunteer work, in recent years she has been secretary of the Fairfax AAUW, secretary of Fairfax Chapter of MWC Alumni Assoc. and Boutique Chairman, Girl Scout leader for seven years and now assistant with a handicapped troop.

Ann Patty McClintock's husband Bob attended RPI and the U. of Richmond, and was an accountant until his sight deteriorated to the point of disability retirement. Ann is a supervisor of the Word Processing Center at the Bureau of Vital Records and Health Statistics and is a member of the Word Processing Association.

Margaret Thomson Pridgen is a widow whose three children are William, Thomas, and Inez. Myrt is librarian at Tazewell High and managed the farm until William took over that family duty.

As did many '49ers, give or take a year, Lucy Vance Gilmer and Sherman celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last year. Lucy was Research Chemist at Tennessee Eastman Company from graduation until '70 and continues being active in her Methodist Church, is secretary of Christian Higher Education, teaches a young adult college class and she and Sherman have been "church parents" to innumerable Virginia Intermont College students during the past 12 years.

Jackie McConnell Scarborough and Leslie reside in Stone Mountain, Ga., where he is president of Carr-Scarborough Microbiologicals, Inc. Jackie obtained her certificate as a Medical Technologist at the U. S. Marine Hospital, Staten Island in '50, worked as an epidemiologist for the Ga. Dept. of Public Health for 10 years and as Office Mgr. of her husband's firm the past five years. She organized the Miami Chapter of MWC Alumni Association, is a member of the Atlanta Chapter now and sings in her First Methodist Church choir.

Anne McCaskill Libis still lives in Baltimore. "Miami" completed one year toward her M.S.W. and currently is center director of the Woodlawn Senior Center in Towson, Md. She's president of the Brice Run Community Association, a member of the League of Women Voters and was twice president of the Maryland Chapter of MWC Alumni.

Irvin Whitlow Westbrook took over from "Miami" as class agent, in addition to her and Roland's many dedicated duties to their church. He is in charge of the Teller School at Southern Bank in Richmond, is chairman of Deacons of their Sandston Baptist Church, teaches Sunday School, holds services in prisons and works with a Lay Revival Team at other churches. "Kitten" is a primary reading instruction and math education teacher of second through fifth grade students for the Henrico County School system, and a deaconess in her church. Latest word from "Kitten" is that she spent two weeks this summer performing Baptist Mission Work in the Ohio Valley district where one Baptist church serves 55 towns.

Andi Dulany Devening, divorced, stayed in Charlottesville and saw four sons through school while furthering her own education. Andi earned her masters's in education, in counseling in '74, at guess which University's School of Education? As a switch from an all-male environment, Andi became House Mother to 65 members of Sigma Alpha Theta sorority, U. of Va., for the spring semester, returning to her position as Director of Student Affairs U. of Va. School of Nursing in the fall.

After 20 years, Barbara Haislip Lynch slipped back into our Port of Call, Marye's Heights. Steaming from New York, she made her second reunion, much to everyones's joy. "Slip" has used her talents variously over the years, as a writer on the staff of Time for several years, musically in clubs and bistros, and now as an author of a book concerning the occult. The MWC Bookstore had stocked several paperback copies of her Stars, Spells, Secrets and Sorcery, which sold out quickly. "Slip" took time out during our Saturday night party to autograph each copy in hand.

I learned that Connie Conley Stuart continues her drama career in Los Angeles as a regular cast member (her role is that of "Phyllis") on the daytime drama, Days of Our Lives. Recently I picked up my husband's copy of the newsletter for the American Federation of Radio and Television Artists, to see that Connie's been elected to the L. A. Board of AFTRA.

Finally, and briefly, a report from your new class agent. After graduation, I toured with my other sister, Evelyn Knight, for two years, met John in Chicago where he was top radio personality, married him in L. A. in '53, returned to Chicago, lived a year in New Orleans and came to St. Louis "for one year," planning to return to L. A. That was 20 years ago and we're still here! I was "drafted" to work for him (KMOX Radio, CBS owned and operated) and continued that nightly duty for 11 years. For the last nine years, I became involved with volunteer work, joined Variety Club Women, Tent #4, chaired many committees, held nearly every office, was named U. C. Woman of Achievement several times, am now immediate past-president of that "Show Biz" charitable organization, having served two terms as president. My volunteer and fund-raising duties continue and I serve on the Board of Directors of two children's agencies. And, after years of apartment dwelling, we finally became home owners five years ago. That's enough on me, except to add that I'm happy my diminished duties this year allowed me to attend our 30th reunion, to walk that lovely, springtime campus again in the company of those whose heartstrings are ever tied to mine.

There's more news of other '49ers, but I have to save something for next time. Please resolve now to help me keep our classmates up to date on you. No matter what your personal worries, disappointments and heartaches, news of old friends should bring a smile of remembrance, if not outright guffaws, to your day. ". . . So it's the laughter we choose to remember, whenever we remember the way we were."

Hope you all had a good summer and are now beginning to think about returning to MWC in 1980 for our 30th reunion. You should have received a questionnaire, which I urge you to return promptly.

Two weddings of offspring early this summer. Mim Sollows Wieland's Barbara on June 23 and Mary Paasch Schoof's son, Bill, in July. Tom Wieland ushered in the Schoof wedding since he and Bill are fraternity brothers at VPI.

Received a phone call from Gracia Plyley Kather this spring. She's well and busy. She and Rudy find camping in the Virgin Islands great.

Carmen Zeppenfeldt Catoni and Luis are going to be busy in the spring of '80–two daughters will be graduating in May. Yelly will finish at vet school, Purdue, and Ana will receive her BS from MWC. Tono will get his MD in late May and Luis Angel will finish in the Conservatory of Barcelona in July. With all that she is hoping to attend our reunion! Carmen received a surprise call this summer from Ann Nuckles Haydon '47 who was conventioning in P. R. with her husband–the first time thay had gotten in touch since '47. Carmen and Ann had lived together in Hamlet House when Carmen was a freshman.

Keep me posted on your doings and whereabouts--will be needing more news!

"I keep my gray hair covered with frosting, my weight covered with wrap-around skirts and my house not kept at all. Going back to school was a shock - I was concerned with my hormone intake, support hose and finding a parking space while my young classmates insist on dealing with world social issues!" writes Nancy Melton Miller. Nancy and Bruce are still in Norfolk where he is an engineer with VEPCO. With two children, 18 and 21, Nancy is working as a medical social worker for the Public Health Service and finishing her masters. Across the continent in California, Sally Shipman Krusen (with five children) is completing her thesis for her MA in counseling and guidance and working for an MFC license as a Jungian analyst. From Marietta, Ga. Marigene Mulligan Duff claims that she and Joe are the elderly (NEVER!) but happy parents of Nancy, 7, and Jed, 10. Marigene has her Ph.D. from Northwestern and is Director of Learning Disabilities at Emory's School of Medicine.

As a change of pace from teaching, Joan Watson Belote is keeping track of molars and muscles by working as an office administrator for a dental clinic in the morning and medical clinic in the afternoon. Jane Lloyd is teaching at Duke, but after six years of saying "keep your head down," is giving up the job of women's golf coach. She will still play invitational tournaments.

Anne Berkeley Doherty and Don can be found on the ski slopes around Syracuse. For the sunny and rainy days, Anne and two partners have an antique business--showing throughout the state, and a second effort involving wall stencilling for homes, museums, banks, restaurants . . . . Gayle Winston Roberts and Page just celebrated their 26th anniversary. Daughter Dana is a sophomore at Old Dominion and son David, a senior at UVA, and doing very well thanks to a surgical team at Duke that was able to replace and elbow following an automobile accident in July '78.

Elaine Wimberly Axley is in Palm Beach. John returned from the Air Force after 25 years and is now with Pratt Whitney Aircraft in its foreign marketing section. Laura, 24, is married and in CA. Pam, 21, is working nearby, while Bill, 18, is starting at N. Georgia College, and Hal, 14, is a high school freshman.

Postcards from vacationers! Anne Brooks Papadatos, Nick, and the children are in Greece 'til the end of August. Carmen Culpeper Chapell's trip to Europe is its expected fantastic self! She and John are having a grand time. Priscilla Brown Wardlaw and family are touring the Grand Canyon, Los Vegas, San Diego, San Francisco, etc.

Mary Carolyn Jamison Gwinn wrote that Harriet Hanson is in Herndon, Va. working for Honeywell. Irene Piscopo Rodgers said some of Don's family are planning a move to St. Petersburg, Fla., which means some traveling and visiting down that way. Irene's sister, Rita, another MWC'er, just completed a showing in White Plains and one in Harrison, N. Y.

Martha Huffman Wood writes that the family has moved to Charlottesville from Alexandria. She is interested in finding other MWC grads in the area.

Not much new this time. Soon as the kids are settled in school drop a line or two. We are still working on our move to Virginia. Hope to have a new address next issue.

We broaden our coverage of classmates this time with news from three we haven't heard from in a long time: Barbara Westmoreland, Kay Anderson Waterbury, and Vange Tripolis Stavredes.

Barbara is a physician and is currently associate professor of neurology at Mayo Medical School in Rochester, MN. She has co-authored a text book on medical neurosciences, and is a lecturer for various neurology and EEG courses. She is chairperson-First Year Neuroscience Course, president Central Association of EEG, and treasurer American Epilepsy Society.

Kay, Tony and their three boys (ages 16, 12 and 6) live in Arlington, Texas. Tony returned from the Marine Corps this September. Kay says they plan to stay put in Texas for the next few years, then hope to return east. In addition to taking care of "her four men," Kay tutors and is active in church work.

Vange and Tom (Richmond, Va.) have a new addition to their family–Nicole, age 1, whom they adopted late last year. Vange is now at home, but for 8 years, she taught in Henrico County. Tom's career has included being asst. principal and principal. In the past several years, they have taken trips to Greece and spent time on the shores of North Carolina.

As for Yours Truly, I "snuck" into Norfolk in late June and found myself involved in time-consuming projects at mother's–such as re-grouting the bathrooms, re-setting clothesline posts, and having my first yard sale. Ebie Breeden McKnight '58, joined me for a few days and we took to the beaches.

On November 1, I will have 15 years of service with Ky. State Gov't. Am still in the field of Child Protective Services, and trying to manage child abuse and neglect programs and activities in our 120 counties. This year's activities will see the expansion on our "Have You Hugged Your Kid Today?" theme, and working with the medical and education professions. Let us hear from y'all!

Had a nice long letter from Linda Brownfield Townsend. It has been two years since Linda left her counseling position at MWC and moved to OH where she is now assistant to the dean at Marion Technical College. She is also very active in politics and has been nominated for the Susan B. Anthony Award and asked to run for City Council.

Beverly Bird Miller moved from Maryland to Stone Mountain, GA last year when Paul opened his own insurance office. Bev is a Girl Scout leader and plays tennis, bridge and golf. Bev ran into Ann Watterson recently. Ann moved to the Atlanta area a year ago and is working for the Geological Survey-Water Resources. Judy Finger Bradley '64 moved to Dallas, Texas.

In July I had a visit from Kathy Cole Carmichael who was visiting her mother in Southern Pines. Husband Ben is a cardiologist in Hattiesburg, Miss.; they have two boys.

Mary Russell lives in MD and is teaching in the D. C. area and Ibby LeSeuer Carter has moved to Louisville, KY and is selling real estate.

My summer has been a good one. I went with our church choir on a singing tour of England for two weeks. We had a marvelous time staying in the homes of the English people in each town on the tour. In July we drove to VA to meet Sallie Granger Daughtrey, Tom, and the boys for two days of camping. Beth Wharton Williams is living in Austin, TX. She and a friend have started their own business - covering walls with fabrics instead of paper - called "Three Sheets to the Wind."

Leah Headley Samuelson saw Barbara Kellam Latham at the National YWCA convention in Dallas last May. Both she and Barbara are serving as YWCA presidents.

I'd love to hear from some of the rest of you so please–a postcard, anything. "B"

From Barbara Kellam Latham

At our 15th reunion the three "volunteers" for class agent agreed to provide a potpourri of information for the first few issues and for for catching everyone on a regular basis. Since we have 5 years to devise a system, perhaps we'll be able to insure a large turnout for our 20th reunion in 1984.

My news is a jumble from recent past to several years ago. With more frequency of late I seem to be finding MWC friends. Kitty Buckaway Sexton is settled in Lexington, Ky., with her husband, Bobby, who is a dean at Univ. of Ky. and consults for a number of colleges and universities. Kitty designs kitchens. Their children, Rebecca, 15, and Robert, 11, are both musicians and Kitty volunteers spare time to the Lexington Youth Symphony. She reported that her old roommate, Sue Myers Vogel is working at the Smithsonian with American pottery. Perhaps some of you saw Sue in the Washington Post last spring when her work was featured.

Barbara Harper Carter and husband Owen live Calabasas, Calif., with Karen, 10, and Richard, 6. I saw Carol Morris Edwards last spring in Mo. at a Jr. League Conference. She lives in Roanoke and is an active volunteer.

Betsy Reutter Martin and John are in Cherry Hills, N. J. John works for Hallmark Cards. They have two children: Bruce, 11, and Kathryn, 9. Betsy still hears from Temduang Kovintha Chaturachinda who lives in Bangkok, Thailand with her husband and 2 children. Temmie's husband is a banker.

Reunion gleaned some information that didn't appear in the reunion booklet. Jane Cloe Simms agreed to find suitable shelter for our 20th reunion banquet. Jane sees Patty O'Bryhim Miller when she visits family in Fredericksburg. Her family is busy with Pete's thriving furniture store in Snow Hill, N. C.

Victoria G. Taylor is teaching English at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in N. Y. C. She received her M. A. degree in English from Manhattanville College.

Virginia Lucas Shearin is teaching Spanish in Springfield where she and Charles have lived for 14 years. They have two children, Jennifer, 8, and Jeffrey, 7. Ginny has set a goal to add French to her list of languages by age 40 and still has enough time to reach her goal. She is active in the MWC Alumni Chapter in Northern Va. and sees Bonnie Ramsey Kerr occasionally.

Parkersburg, W. Va., is in the middle of the Mid-Ohio Valley and on the way to nowhere and everywhere. We love living here and think that it's a great place to rear children. Roger is a research chemist for duPont and Kate, 10, and Sara, 9, are in 5th and 4th grades, respectively. I term myself a "professional volunteer." My main interest is YWCA and am currently board president. Am also involved as a board member with our local county Senior Citizens operation.

Please put me on your correspondence list. I've started writing post cards to some of you and will continue on the list, but you have to answer them.

The reunion booklet was beautiful and full of news. I hope that many of you were able to see a copy. Our class is surely dispersed after 15 years. Barbara

Liz Vantrease, Hampton city editor of The Newport News Times–Herald, was named with one of her co-workers as "Press Woman of the Year" by the Virginia Press Women, Inc. The award, presented at the association's fall convention in October, is given for professional excellence and service to the press women's group.

Marion Moncure is working for Breckenridge Ski Corp. and invites her classmates to visit her in Colorado. Ellen Smythe Grosskurth and husband Carl had their first child, Veronica Elyse, in July. Carl is a sensor operator in the Navy.

From Kathi O'Neill Argiropoulos

The third birthday party of Lindsay, daughter of Paul and Tina Kormanski Krause, brought together Kathy Theil, husband Joe Wisemiller and daughter, Sarah, my husband, John, myself, and what seemed at times, like a cast of thousands.

Tina taught art history at Northern Viginia Community College last semester, and also works part-time at a small art gallery. Tilly continues in the Washington Legal Department of A T & T. Tee and her family spent one year in the Netherlands and have now returned to the Boston area.

The spring of this year marked a terrific reunion of types, in honor of Barbara Halliday '71, who left the D. C. area, heading across country to San Francisco. I know I will forget some of the many attendees, but I shall try to name them all: Mimi Hearne Barringer '71, Kathy Schroeder '71, Dory Tiepel '71, Marion Blakey, Liz Vantrease, Ann Gordon Greever '71, Patty Link '72, Lenice Wu '68, Marla Price, Karen Harwood '72, Jane Touzalin '71, Sue McCauly '69, Kathy Alexander '72, Kathy Marilla '71, Joanne Sinshiemer, Filo Funk '73, Betty Brew, Etc. (My apologies for failing to provide married names, where appropriate.) It was really terrific to have an opportunity to visit with everyone. And, I might add, everyone seems to be doing very well. Here are a few examples–Karen is a lawyer and is practicing in Alexandria. Ann Gordon is also an attorney with Hunt and Williams in Richmond. Patty is the administrative aide to Senator Pressler. Dory is a legislative aide with Dravo Corp. and recently returned from a trip to Paris and London.

Alex Tomalonis is now writing for the Washington Post as a dance critic, and is enjoying it very much. She is also endeavoring to publish a magazine devoted to dance, which will devote particular attention to the happenings in Washinton.

Mary Anne Burns '71, is living in Albuquerque and working on her MBA at the Univ. of New Mexico. She plans to come to the Washington area following graduation.

Donna Accetullo move here about a year ago, and is a speech pathologist in the Leesburg area.

Mary Pat O'Donnell, husband Michael Wiegard, and twin sons, Max and Spence, recently returned from a vacation on the Gulf coast near New Orleans.

I continue to work for the Air Transport Assocation as the assistant vice president of the law department and as the association secretary. John is now working as a project manager for the Peter Gordon Co., a local construction company. We recently purchased a new home in Arlington, having sold our fomer home to Mary T. Bradley MacPherson and her husband, Willie. They are both with the Washington Service Bureau, Inc.

Finally, a formal message to Tina who always complains that there is no news from our class in the magazine: I did my bit, so let's hear from the rest of you!

Helen Hopkins married Pierre Greffard in June. Helen is a travel agent and Pierre is an attorney. They are living in Quebec.

Kathleen Ellen Dawson Shaw has begun law studies at Marshall Wythe School of Law in Williamsburg. A feature article was just recently published in The Virginia Gazette concerning Cathy and her husband Terry. Terry was operated on last year for a serious brain tumor. He was discharged from the Marine Corps in 1978 classified as "190 percent disabled." Doctors thought he would be dead by last Christmas.

Terry's fight for life has left him without the ability to read. Since his release from the Bethesda Naval Hospital, he has been the defense counsel for the Naval Weapons Station. He works with sailors and Marines "mostly in an advisory capacity."

Despite the surgery, glaucoma, and the concern that the tumor will begin to grow again Terry believes that he will live to a ripe old age. He has had lots of help from God, his wife and the medical profession. (MWC wishes Terry and Cathy the best of luck and success.)

Wedding announcements! Marty Houchins wed Tom Collier last December. This fall Marty will be an assistant principal at the Douglas S. Freeman High School in Henrico County. Tom coaches football and took Marty to New Orleans for their honeymoon where they watched one of his former students play in the Sugar Bowl.

Kathryn Hanna and Geoffrey Honan were to be married in September. Both Kathy and Geof work at Best Products main office in Ashland, Va. Kathy is a work methods analyst and Geof is the corporate plant manager.

Birth announcements! Emily Houghton Carrig was born on June 1, 1978 to Nancy Houghton and Kevin Carrig. Nancy teaches at Henrico High School and Kevin will be entering Pharmacy School at MCV this fall. Christopher Martin Gill arrived April 27, 1978 to Margaret Martin Gill and her husband Lin. The Gills live in Chester, Va. Lin works for the Federal Reserve Bank in Richmond. Emily Megan and Robert Singleton Gibb were born Sept. 18, 1977 and Sept. 15, 1978, respectively, to Jan Payne and Colin Gibb. Jan is working part-time as a systems analyst at VPI and Colin practices law in Narrows, Va. Carol Quaintance Hammit and her daughter, Jaimme, now 2 years old, drove from Ohio to Pearisburg in May for Robert's baptism in order for Carol to stand as his godmother. John and I were blessed with the arrival of John Warren Daniel III on October 30, 1978. I am working with the Va. Dept. of Corrections as an evaluation specialist. John is an attorney with the Va. State Legislature. Edward B. Ingersoll, Jr. was born Sept. 19, 1977 to Patty Sheahy Ingersoll '73 and her husband, Ed, who live in Richmond where he is a bank branch manager.

Signey Pabst White and her husband, Larry, have a son, Kermit, born last August. George Castleton Edmunds III was born to Betsy Smith Edmunds and George last August. The Edmunds have recently moved to Reidsville, N. C. where George is a plant manager for Burlington Industries. He received a MBA from the University of Va. Linda Cayton's daughter, Anna, was born in May, 1978. Linda and her husband John Holland live in Denver, Colo. where he is a practicing attorney. They are planning a trip to Virginia this fall.

Rita Bissell is living in Richmond where she works as a social worker with the Richmond Welfare Department. Linda Kay Carpenter is also in Richmond working as a transportation planner. Ann Gordon Greever '71 is now an associate with the law firm of Hunton & Williams in Richmond. Anne finished law school at William and Mary in 1976. Our deepest sympathy goes to Kathy Bradford Gillette on the death of her husband, Holmes. Holmes was an intern in family practice at the Riverside Hospital in Newport News before his fatal auto accident. Kathy is now living in Richmond with her son, Andrew Holmes, born February 1978.

Kitty Wyche Carpenter and her husband, Eddie, have built a new home in Goochland County, Va. Eddie is the county's Commonwealth Attorney. Jean Graham spent the summer in Culpeper recuperating from injuries suffered during an auto accident.

A mini-reunion was held in May on the New Jersey shore at the bidding of Penny Follette Ternowsky and her husband, Mike, and two-year-old son, Michael. They hosted Kevin, Emily, and Nancy Houghton Carrig, Jean Graham, Tom, Keith, and Dorothy Fry Previc, and Kathy Hanna and her fiancee, Geof. Mike works in real estate in Avalon where he and Penny are remodeling their home in anticipation of their second child due in September. Dorothy Fry Previc is also expecting her second child. The Prevics live in Marysville, Pa. while Tom works as a lobbyist at the Pa. State Legislature. Jane Riley Bliley and husband, Paul, live in Richmond where Paul is a practicing attorney. Jane is very active as a volunteer at the Little Sister's of the Poor Home for the Aged.

Sandy Ciarcia Charles will be entering Johns Hopkins University this fall to begin working on a masters degree in international relations. Sandy and her husband, Richard, have just bought a new home in Vienna, Va. Richard is now part owner and sales manager of a boat dealership.

Elizabeth Lewis Wenner writes that she and Charles Anthony Wenner of Long Island, New York, were married in 1976. She received her MA. in 1975 and is a Ph. D. candidate at the College of William and Mary in biological oceanography. Charles received his Ph.D. in biological oceanography from William and Mary and has a position with the South Carolina Wildlife and Marine Resources. The Wenners make their home in Charleston, S. C. Chris Yeager is currently working in the admissions office at Towson College in Maryland.

Janet G. Pickral is associate campaign director of the Washtenaw United Way. Younger sister, Betsy Pickral, is a freshman at MWC this year. Janet's sister-in-law, Nancy Atthowe Pickral '74 had her 1st child last Aug., a boy. She and husband Bob have been in Berlin for the lasb3 years.

I would like to thank all my classmates who answered the January mailout. There was too much news to put into this issue but in the next few months I will make sure all the news is included. Keep me informed! I am a lieutenant in the Navy stationed in Norfolk. My husband Bruce is working for Reynold Metals. Janet Bade Dowling is teaching third grade in Fredericksburg. Her husband, Michael, is a statistician with the Dept. of Defense. Mary Fletcher Donahue is working full-time as a reporter/photographer for the "Kingsville Bishop Record News" in Texas. She and husband Paul, a pilot in the Marine Corp, just returned to the U.S. after a year tour in Japan.

Theresa Carroll is an editorial assistant with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and lives in Alexandria, Va. She finished her graduate work in art history at UVA and studied studio art at the Corcoran School in Washington D.C. Last Spring, she published an article in the Journal of Career Education. Lynne Johnson Drawdy works as a mortgage loan administrator in Aberdeen, N.C. Her husband Charles is a minister. Jan Kurtz is teaching in the elementary school in Woodbridge, Va. Anne Gillette Murphy is living in Newport, R.I. with her Naval officer husband, Alexander.

Patty Stewart Boytek left the Navy, where she worked as a physical therapist, to be at home with her new son. Linda Kerwin Drake is working as a manager of Ships Store in Skaneateles, N.Y. Husband Bradford graduated in May from Syracuse University with a MBA. They will be touring Europe for several months.

Sally Bates is working as an executive director of the Arts Council of Wilson, N.C.

Lina Scott married Lt. Jonathan H. Woodall last April. They are living in Mass. Alison Bateson married Richard Toupin last June. Richard is a lawyer and Alison is a speech therapist for the Rhode Island Hospital. Elizabeth Wright just completed 6 weeks of special training before she leaves for Bangalore, India. She was selected as a Southern Baptist missionary journeyman to work alongside career missionaries. She will teach elementary school.

From Valerie C. Walters:

Well how's it going? To date, my mailbox stays full of surprises with letters from our class. Phyllis Highland has been keeping extremely busy. She recently completed her MED from UVA while rapping up her 5th year of teaching. She is also serving as vice-president of the Board of Directors of the Orange County Recreation Association.
Gail Adamson Gordon gave me the scoop on several people. Gail writes that she was a research analyst for awhile after graduation. She met her future husband while visiting Ditto Smith Christensen. Roy is in the Navy and they're currently stationed in Virginia Beach at this writing. His full name is Royal Polk Gordon, III and he's a member of UVA class of 75. Ditto Smith Christensen is in Jacksonville where John is stationed as a helicopter pilot. Things seem to be going great with them and they recently had a son, John Jr.

Janice Anderson and Mary Mahon are sharing an apartment in Alexandria. Mary completed her law degree at the University of Richmond and Janice finished up an MBA program at William and Mary. I talked to Joanne Scandling recently and she is an assistant manager at Bretano's Book Store, the Pentagon location. Terry Brugioni Tabek and Harley just bought a townhouse in Manassas, Va. Harley completed a master's at George Washington University in health care management.

I live in Washington and enjoy city life. Soon I will be moving back to the suburbs of Maryland. I finished my course work at the University of Maryland for a masters in recreation. I decided I needed more of a challenge and am currently selling life insurance and loving it. I completed an intensive training program in Dallas, Texas last fall, and I'm now trying to learn the business. I anticipate sending out an information letter within the next two months, so get ready to answer it. I love hearing from you and I promise you'll get as much space as the editors allow. Take care now.

Carolyn Mack Short and John have just moved to Raleigh, N.C. I can hardly believe that over a year has gone by since Mark and I got married! We are living in Luray, Va. where Mark is the administrator of Mont Vue Nursing Home. I am working for the Virginia Employment Commission in Winchester. Debbie Jordan and Ben Lewis tied the knot in Charlottesville last May. They live in Charlottesville where Ben is continuing his studies at UVA med school, and Debbie is working in a lab doing research. Betty Galt and John Kennedy got married last June in New York, and will also be making their home in Charlottesville while John goes to graduate school at UVA.

Charlottesville must be the gathering place for the class of '77! Jim and Laurie Henderson Newbrough have just bought their first house!! Dan and Debbie Blauvelt Logan have also bought a house in Harrisonburg, where Debbie has recently gotten a job as a pharmeceutical salesperson, and is now traveling around the Shenandoah Valley. Ron and Deb Brown Price are the parents of a new baby girl. Laura Hill Price arrived this summer.

Spot check...Carolyn Alexander is working as an echo cardiologist at MCV. She gets to travel as part of the job, and really enjoys working with the kids that she tests. Phyllis Quinn is busy playing Dr. Quincy's assistant with the Virginia State Crime Lab in Richmond. She received her master's in forensic chemistry from the University of Pittsburgh in 1978 and has been out in the world of crime ever since. Karen Joyce decided that a change of scenery was in order, and flew to Arizona, where she has landed a job as social director for a country club. Betsy McNiel flew to Japan to visit Chuck and Nancy Dolan Gorum, and to do some touring. Chuck and Nancy were in the states for Christmas vacation, and said they were really enjoying their tour of duty. Betsy is still working for Merc Pharmaceuticals in Elkton. Rumor has it that Betsy and Teri Miles are both thinking of buying townhouses. Bob and Sue Perkins Alvis are still living in Augusta, Ga. where they have rented a house and acquired a golden retriever. Sue has finished her master's degree, and Bob has been awarded a fellowship in nephrology at the University of Pennsylvania. Can you believe that Sue was the boys tennis coach at the high school where she has been teaching?

Delores Porrino is working in Ga., and is preparing to go back to graduate school in the fall. Lisa Rae Campbell is living in Richmond with her sister, and is working for the State Highway Department. Michele Franzoni has been transferred to Allentown, Pa. by Bell Telephone, and Debbie Harris, also working for Ma Bell, has been trying to make up her mind which exotic place she wants to move to, courtesy of the company. We're waiting for wedding bells to ring for Manon Moynihan and Kevin Dietrich in September. They plan to make their home in Harrisonburg. Beth Craig and Vicki Neilson are living together in the D.C. area. Beth has gotten a job working in her major, and is planning to go to graduate school this fall. And last but not least...we heard that Candy Man has retired. Future generations of MWC will never know the fun of getting in the back of a candy truck, surrounded by your dreams come true of any chocolate bar you can imagine. One of the last legends at MWC has come to an end. We'll miss you, Candy Man. That's all the news for this time. Can't wait to see everyone at the five year reunion...only 2½ years to go! Feel old, folks?

Luck & Laughter, Emily

Frances Samsky became Mrs. John W. Buyers last July. They have moved to Pensacola where John will be in flight school. Laurie J. Baker has just completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center in Fl.

From Cindy: Hi everyone! Thanks for writing! Susan Hektner graduated from the U. of Delaware in June with a master's in Spanish. Virginia Holland became Virginia Holland Cocharan last June. Ginna writes that June Jenkins, who started MWC in '74, has been married for two years in May. Linda Bennet Van Petten '76 is living with her husband, David, in southern California. Cindy Hall is working at the Naval Surface Weapons Center as a technical publication writer-editor. She and husband Robert, have one daughter Caryn, who is four years old. I have been living with Marnie Snyder since graduation. Marnie is working at the David Taylor Research Center in Bethesda as a mathematician. Her office mate was, until last June, Kathy Cesky, who now works for IBM in Manassas.

Ann Conway is announcing wedding plans!! She is engaged to Tim Winston and planning for a June wedding. Ann is living in Culpeper where she teaches second grade. Gail Story Easley works for HEW, Office of Education as an Education Program Specialist. For the past year, I also worked there, in fact on the same program with Gail. However, in August, I started working with the Department of Labor as an Economist. I saw Brenda Davis, who transferred to and graduated from MCV, in July. She is now working as a nurse in the MCV hospital. Sharon Green has completed her teaching certification this past summer, and is working at a bank in Winchester, Va. while searching for a teaching position. Paula Magrogan is working for Sen. Sarbanes and is excited about her December 29 wedding to Doug Mathias, the Senator's aide.

Happy Clark and Susan Murphy are living together in a DC apartment. Happy works at the National Center for Citizen Involvement as a workshop coordinator. She travels to various cities. Sue is the coordinator for Cooperative Education Programs at the American University. Sylvia "Sam" Winters is teaching earth science at Spotsylvania High School. She plans to wed Carroll E. Burton Oct. 18 in Hampton, Va. Margaret Snellings Niemann is a highway construction inspector trainee for Va. Dept. of Hwys. and Trans. in Fredericksburg. Joanne Smith is living in Manassas, Va. and works at Hazelton Laboratories. She has been promoted to team leader. I am secretary of the Fairfax Chapter of the Alumni Association. In June, the chapter sponsored a Barge Trip down the C&O Canal which was absolutely beautiful. Looking forward to seeing more '78 graduates at the future meetings. Cindy

From Liz: Before relaying all the news I have, I'd like to thank everyone who responded to my cards. Patty Ringle married Tom Vandever in August and they are now living in Charlottesville. Both Patty and Tom have earned master's degrees and Tom will be working on his doctorate in government and foreign affairs at UVA. Patty is job hunting. Paula Newquist had a son, Russell Steve, on August 1. Paula will celebrate her tenth wedding anniversary in October. Cathy Bennett Neff is working for Aircraft Owners and Pilot Association as an associate editor for the Airports USA Directory and Pilot magazine. Her new hobbies include flying a small Beechcraft-Muskateer and mountain climbing with her husband. Dawn Reid is working as a weights and measures specialist for the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets. Linda Richardson rooms with Debbie Davenport in Williamsburg and is working at a new site near Jamestown. Linda spent much of last year on Cozumel Island and the Yucatan Peninsula in Mexico visiting archaeological ruins. Her report on her former dig site, Corotoman, will be published soon. Debbie and Linda are both employed by the Virginia Research Center for Archaeology, based at William and Mary. Debbie is field supervisor at Governor's Land where they both work.

Leslie Rigby married Morgan Kash on August 4. Some of her bridesmaids were Karen Vogen, Lou Anne Reid Maniscalco, and Joanne Skiscm. Karen and Leslie roomed together last year and taught in Spotsylvania. Leslie and Morgan will live in Blacksburg where she will teach kindergarten in Giles County and he will attend Virginia Tech. Audrey Pretlow is living in Warrenton and working at Scott and Stringfellow, a brokerage firm there. She is preparing to become a broker and will go to New York

City to take her exam in October. Claudia Nicholson is working at the National Archives. She rooms with Susan Foster ('79), Karen Gerred and Paula Berry. Susan works for a bank in Washington, Paula for a research firm, and Karen at a lab in Springfield, Va. Robin Pender and Beverly Campbell traveled to Colorado to see former MWC professor King Stablein. Dr. Stablein is working with uranium, and his wife is teaching at Mesa College. Robin left on July 27 for a month at sea, surveying off the coast of Florida, and will stay a few days in Bermuda before returning in September. Vickie Nichols is moving to Richmond to teach second grade in Goochland County. Darlene Tanner is living in Richmond and teaching in King and Queen County. Debbie Akers lives in Portsmouth and taught last year but doesn't plan to return to teaching this fall. Ingrid Jeul-Neilsen spent last year in Miami training with Sears. Kathleen Hilker is working for State Farm in Wytheville, Va. and Tia Kite has moved from New Jersey to Fredericksburg, Va.

Karen Obenshain attended Radford, finishing with a BS in geology, and then went on to hold a graduate fellowship there. Karen worked at the University of Georgia this summer as a research assistant in the geology lab. This fall she will attend the University of Georgia to begin work on her MS in isotope geology. Shirley Perry is beginning her second year of teaching third grade at King George Elementary School. Jane Roth writes that she has been in library science school at U.N.C.-Chapel Hill and has obtained her masters degree. While at Chapel Hill, Jane ran into Sue Smith ('76) and Jayne Catullo ('77). Holly Haruff is working for Wistar in Philadelphia and Jean Alexander is now a field technician in Los Angeles, California. Jean has just gotten her SCUBA certification. Debra Robinson has moved to New York City where she has completed one year of her two-year graduate program in dance therapy at Hunter College. Beth Huffman married Greg Reed shortly after graduation and is now working with Defense Mapping Agency in Washington. She was recently promoted and she and her husband bought a townhouse in Burke, Va. Judy Hairfield Richards is still very happy after one year of marriage. She is teaching seventh and eighth grade in Spotsylvania County. She coaches girls' basketball and softball and is still pursuing her Mid-eastern dancing career. She taught drama at MWC this summer during the Governor's School Program. Nancy Reid will graduate in December from the University of Florida in Gainesville with a masters in International Relations. Susan Hektner obtained her masters from the University of Delaware in June. Debbie Love married David Saintsing in December 1978. She and David moved to Baton Rouge, La. in August where they both have jobs as teaching assistants at the University. David will also be working on his doctorate and Deb on her masters.

Jo Allison Powell married Shane Nichols. They live in Culpeper, Va. where he is employed at a local bank. Georgetta Sharman left her job as a reporter for the Sanford Herald in North Carolina to join the Peace Corps. She is presently training in Cameroun, Africa. When she has completed her training she will be teaching English in Garbon, Africa.

Here in Culpeper we have started an Alumni Chapter. We're off to a slow start but we have many alumni to help us grow into a large and very active chapter. I was elected president of the chapter. I will be returning to teaching this fall at our junior high school. That's all for now. Thanks again and keep in touch!!

Liz

From Kathy: I am living in Fredericksburg and am a photographer at the National Archives in Washington D.C. I photograph rare documents, maps and photographs of historical significance and cover events and VIP's visiting the Archives. I have photographed such dignitaries as Chief Justice Warren Burger, and Madame Cho Lin - wife of Chinese Vice-Premier Deng-Tsaio Ping, and several German and Russian diplomats. Susan Haas is a cartographer with an engineering firm in Old Town Alexandria. She just returned from a month-long trip to the Northwestern United States and Vancouver. Robyn Reed has been working since last July in Federal Government relations as a corporate secretary to the lobbyist at Union Carbide Corporation in Washington.

Toni Showalter is living in the Fredericksburg area, and teaches art to 6th, 7th and 8th graders at John J. Wright Intermediate School. In addition to her regular teaching demands, Toni and another teacher have developed the art curriculum for the school. Debi Robinson recently completed her first year in the Dance Therapy Graduate Program at Hunter College in Manhattan. She loves New York, and lives in Brooklyn. She was a member of a dance company for the summer. Jeanette Smith spent a hectic year in Australia and various parts of Southeast Asia collecting paintings and artwork made by native artists of those regions. She has been successfully selling her imports. She is considering a career in foreign merchandizing.

Regan Mary Mulreany is now a Delta flight attendant based in Boston. After a year working in reservations, she decided she wanted to fly.

From Barbara: Nine members of Framar were on hand with warm wishes for newly married graduates of MWC, Randy Kirby '79 and B.J. Miller Kirby '78 at their wedding in Staunton, Va. on Aug. 4. They will live in Georgia where B.J. has a teaching job and Randy attends the seminary to become a minister. Sue Moore, Carolyn Keyser, and Ellen Erskine, three geography majors, are playing "realworld" cart lab at DEWBERRY, NEALON and DAVIS in Falls Church. Patrick Everett is working in communications for the Bell Co. in Washington D.C. Luisa Freeman is completing her masters at the Univ. of Tenn. (Knoxville). Nena Lee is working on Capitol Hill for a congressman from Kansas. Bernard "Skib" Skibinski is working in a lab doing cancer research in Springfield, Va. From Susan: Pam Marks and Dorothy Hannum are working at a day care center in Falls Church Va. Leslie Mayer is attending nursing school at MCV. After an eventful summer as a construction worker, Mike McGuire is currently a "surf fox" on the beaches of Cape Hatteras. Larry McKenzie and Laird Minor are living in Fredericksburg. Mary McWhirt is teaching kindergarten in Spotsylvania Co. Karen Noss is creating works of art for the Fredericksburg Pewter Shop.

From Cathy: MWC produces qualified kiddie teachers: Sue Ottinger will be teaching third grade at Berkeley Elementary in Spotsylvania, while Amanda Pittman will have a kindergarten class in the Lancaster County public school system.

From Cynthia: Our first summer as MWC alumnae has been a busy one. A camp counselor's job is never easy, as Caroline Carr has found out by sacrificing a bed for the ground. Lisa Carle chose to stay in Fredericksburg as a waitress at Pizza Hut until she could become settled, while Moira Carr opted for an adventurous move to New Orleans, where she now works in retailing. Laura Buchanan turned to Ma Bell for employment where she was hired as a supervisor. After waitressing at the DC Hilton, Gayle Weingberger will be moving to Fredericksburg where a teaching job is waiting. Judy Kemp, who will be rooming with Gayle, will also pursue teaching in the area. Being a secretary for a Richmond Insurance Company, Jeannie Weller has begun to earn graduate school money. Sally Smith is working on her masters in architectural history at UVA, and her room mate, Robin Turner, is holding down a waitress job while studying to be a doctor. Leslie Mayer will retire as a nanny to move to Richmond where she will be studying nursing at MCV. University of Tennessee is Sally Hart's destination where she will continue her study in geography, while Sue Moore plans to temporarily abandon her present cartographical job to travel out west. Betsy Bowen has been working for a plumbing company in Delaware digging up pipes and is getting prepared for her 18 month journey around the world on a sailboat, which begins in October. On a recent visit to New York City, Betsy and I missed seeing Nancy Ives at the deli Zabar's where she works. Nancy along with Leslie Wells, plan to study at Columbia University. As for myself, I am studying for the FCC first-class operator's permit here in Richmond.

Rhonda J. Shackelford and Katherine Shiflett have just moved into the English Hills Apts. in Richmond. Rhonda is an information assistant with the Public Relations division of the Va. Housing Development Authority. Susan Adams is dancing in the outdoor production of "The Lost Colony." Kathy Bowdring is at ODU in the chemistry grad. program.

Fran Brooks is teaching 4th grade in Spotsylvania county. Debi Byrne and Fran share an apartment in Fredericksburg. Debi is teaching biology in Spotsylvania. Pam Reynolds has moved to Carmicheal, Ca. Paul Rinne is in med school at UVA.
